

Radio Station KDLG

Position Announcement Fish Reporter

Public radio station KDLG has an immediate opening for a Fisheries Reporter.

The Fishery Reporter's main task is to oversee the weekly production of the Bristol Bay Fisheries Report, a fifteen minute news programs dedicated to the latest events in the very active Bristol Bay Salmon Fishery. Duties will include gathering, writing and producing both hard news and feature stories on both daily and weekly deadlines. The reporter will also regularly meet with members of the news staff to pitch stories and refine ideas. Additionally, the position will require some in-region travel to remote fishing communities to bring our listeners firsthand accounts from the fishing season as it unfolds from the entire Bristol Bay region.

KDLG lies in the heart of beautiful Bristol Bay, the sockeye salmon capital of the world. The mountains lakes and rivers in the region make it one of the premier destinations for hunters, fishermen and other outdoor enthusiasts.

KDLG is based in Dillingham Alaska, a commercial fishing community with a yearly population of 2,500 which increases to nearly 5,000 during the commercial fishing season. Dillingham is located 350 miles SW of Anchorage, and is off of the road system and accessible only by air. The population is fifty percent Alaska Native and Dillingham is the hub for a number of surrounding Native villages. Though based in Dillingham, KDLG serves most of the Bristol Bay region, which is approximately the size of the state of Ohio.

We are looking for the adventurous candidate with at least one year of experience in radio journalism or equivalent work. Reporting experience on Alaska fisheries is preferred. This is a 3 month job and will start on the 17th of May. To apply, email a resume, two audio samples, letter of interest detailing your news experience and three references to Rob Carpenter at rob@dlgsd.org or mail the preceding to Rob Carpenter, General Manager KDLG Radio, Box 670, Dillingham, AK 99576.

Deadline for receiving resumes is March 26th, 2010.

KDLG is an Equal Opportunity employer and encourages women and minorities to apply.

Pay is $13.00 – $18.00 an hour with a housing stipend.
